

Eco Warrior

Maspar has entered the sustainable wellness space with its latest collection, Serene Haven. Embracing the global macro trend of quiet luxury, this multi-category bedroom and bath range rejects loud patterns in favour of calming neutral tones and rich, skin-friendly textures. The collection features OEKO-TEX® certified fabrics, starring a 400-thread-count wood pulp fibre and naturally hypoallergenic bamboo-cotton blends. From silk soft thermal regulating duvets to ultra absorbent spa bathrobes, the eco-conscious line-up comes housed in plastic-free reusable packaging.
PRICE ₹1,699 (hypoallergenic bamboo décor cushion cover) to ₹19,999 (100 per cent plant-based fibre quilted bed covers)

Textile Truths

Nesterra rolls out its sixth annual showcase. Grounded in refined maximalism and digital traceability, the collection spans across three design directions, 'Featuring You', 'Flawless' and 'Everyday Luxe'. You will also find luxurious jacquards, chenilles and intricate embroideries built to withstand everyday wear. Key highlights include Panelogy, the label's debut line of structured embroidered panel drapery, alongside the high-performance Chair Affair II, stain-resistant seating fabrics.

Natural Growth

Wriver branches into biomimetic design with its newly launched Sylva series, created by Wriver Design Studio. Replicating the structural logic of tree roots and vines, the collection lets structural support double as an expressive aesthetic element. The material canvas anchors warm, premium designer wood veneers against a fluid, asymmetrical cast-metal framework. This exposed organic skeleton cradles curved cabinets and plush upholstered lounge chairs without disrupting functional storage or seating volumes. By celebrating irregular natural growth alongside strict architectural discipline, the tactile line-up evolves everyday furniture into adaptive spatial sculptures.
